Taking pictures in the dark!

Halloween is just around the corner and all your wonderful costumes should be memorized - easily done with your phone's camera!

We have put together some good advice since we want you to make the most out of your Halloween photos.

Even when the lighting is less than perfect!

- Keep your phone steady. Try to stabilize your phone against an object, or stabilize yourself (by for example putting your elbows on a table when taking the photo)!
- Use black and white filter. Photos tend to get a bit grainy when the light is down. Turning your photos black and white, however, some grain simply creates a cool effect on the end result.
- Take many photos. Since the possibility of bad photos are higher, you may narrow this risk by simply taking more photos!
- Use the flashlight from another phone. This may seem unnecessary since your phone already has a flash, but the fact is that this technique is much more natural and flattering. Try it out!

Why not collect your Halloween photos and create a beautiful photo book!

A fun idea: send out photo books to your guests as memories of a successful party - if you order more than 1 copy of the same photo book, you will get the following books in the same order for half the price!

Solentro welcomes a new member!

Some of you might have noticed a new name popping up in the mail correspondence lately - it's Julia, our new executive assistant! She's a business student with, like many of you, a passion for creating books. Her latest book was from a vacation at sea, and at the moment she is planning a birthday book for her parents. She is looking forward to help you out with your book creations here at Solentro!

Exceptional satisfaction!

Easy, great quality, LOVED IT

I have made picture books before but wanted something that had more type-written pages than pictures and looked like a book store hardcover. The ease of use of the website was wonderful, questions to customer service (only 2) were answered immediately and the quality was far more than expected. These books are Christmas presents and I am so pleased with the final result!

Happy Halloween!
